Teacher Guide

Level: College - ASL 101

State: Not applicable

Subject: American Sign Language

Resource type: Visual Practice Guide

Estimated time: 35-45 minutes

Standard / objective: Course objective - Apply basic visual-attention norms, fingerspell names, and produce beginner greetings and classroom exchanges with appropriate nonmanual signals.

Source note: Course-level learning objective; no accreditation, transfer, or universal equivalency claimed. Static text descriptions supplement, but do not replace, qualified live or video instruction.

What is included: branded cover, teacher guide, student directions, 16 original practice items, 5-item exit ticket, complete answer key/worked guidance, differentiation supports, printing notes, and license statement.

Purpose: Practice respectful visual communication, fingerspelling strategy, and beginner ASL discourse norms.

Preparation: Print student pages single-sided or assign through a secure LMS. Review the key and select tools allowed for your learners. No special commercial curriculum is required.

Access and differentiation

AIG: require a second representation, proof, counterexample, transfer task, or student-created extension. 504: provide extended time, chunked sections, breaks, reduced copying, and accessible digital zoom as specified by the plan. EC: preteach vocabulary, model one item, provide manipulatives/visuals, and accept aligned response modes from the IEP. ESL: preview key terms, provide bilingual resources and sentence frames, and allow partner rehearsal. Use each learner's current plan; this guide does not replace it.

Student Practice

Learning focus: Practice respectful visual communication, fingerspelling strategy, and beginner ASL discourse norms.

Directions: Complete all items. Show calculations, cite evidence, or explain your reasoning when requested. Check your work before submitting.

1. What should you establish before signing?
2. Name one respectful way to gain attention.
3. Why is mouthing every English word not ASL grammar?
4. What is fingerspelling mainly used for?
5. How should beginners fingerspell a name?
6. What nonmanual signal commonly marks yes/no questions?
7. What marks many WH-questions?
8. Where should hands stay for clear signing?

Student Practice - Continued

9. Why avoid grabbing a Deaf signer for attention?

10. What is gloss?

11. Plan a greeting sequence.

12. How can a partner request repetition?

13. Why does eye gaze matter?

14. Describe an accessible seating arrangement.

15. Self-assess fingerspelling.

16. Write a practice plan.

Exit Ticket

Complete independently in 8-10 minutes.

1. State the main skill or concept in your own words.
2. Create one accurate example that uses today's skill.
3. Explain how you checked your example.
4. Identify one common error and correct it.
5. Rate your confidence from 1-4 and name your next practice step.

Quick rubric: 4 = accurate, complete, and well justified; 3 = accurate with minor omission; 2 = partial understanding; 1 = limited evidence; 0 = blank or unrelated.

Complete Teacher Answer Key

1. Visual attention/eye contact.
2. Wave within sight, tap shoulder lightly, or use room light with permission.
3. ASL has its own grammar and nonmanual markers.
4. Names, places, and terms without a known sign.
5. Smoothly at readable pace, not letter-by-letter punching.
6. Raised eyebrows with appropriate body posture.
7. Furrowed/lowered eyebrows near the question.
8. Comfortable signing space visible to partner.
9. It is intrusive; use respectful visual/tactile norms.
10. A limited written notation for discussing signs, not ASL itself.
11. Attention, greeting, name exchange, closing.
12. Use an appropriate repeat/again request and puzzled facial expression.
13. It maintains attention and carries grammatical/social information.
14. Clear sightlines, adequate light, minimal visual obstruction.
15. Check hand position, rhythm, clarity, and eye gaze.
16. Short repeated practice with feedback from qualified sources.

Exit ticket guidance: Responses vary. Award full credit when the student accurately explains the focus, supplies a correct example, describes a valid check, identifies and corrects a realistic misconception, and chooses a specific next step.

Verification: Fixed responses and calculations were checked during production. Open responses are evaluated against the criteria above.

Originality and use: This packet contains original educational content. It does not reproduce released-test items or branded curriculum. One purchaser may use it with their own students; redistribution, resale, and public posting are not permitted.
