

Two Letters, One Sound: SH and CH Workshop

Grade 1 • Illinois • Phonics

CC.1.R.F.3.a

Read common sh and ch consonant digraphs in words and short sentences. Includes 16 practice tasks, a four-task exit check, two explained models, and complete answer guidance.

PRINT • TEACH • REVISIT

Plan a focused lesson

Level and alignment

Grade 1 • Illinois • Phonics; CC.1.R.F.3.a. Focus: Read common sh and ch consonant digraphs in words and short sentences.

What is included

One cover; one teacher guide; one mini-lesson with two explained models; 1 original text/reference section(s); 16 practice tasks on four pages; one four-task exit check; four answer-key pages covering all 20 tasks; two access/source/license pages. Student texts are original, not extracted from released tests.

Time and sequence

Two 30–40-minute sessions plus a 10–15-minute exit check; extended writing or speech rehearsal may take longer. Model first; use tasks 1–4 to check readiness; practice the remainder in short groups; give tasks 17–20 without the key.

Preparation

Print student pages separately from teacher pages. Provide pencils and extra paper; oral-response learners need an adult recorder. Review word meanings and prerequisite decoding or sentence skills. No paid app, novel, or external reading is required.

Student directions

Read the lesson and supplied text or reference. Attempt each task before viewing the key. Explain when asked. Use separate paper for full drafts or longer answers; the PDF is not a fillable form.

Learn the move

In these words, sh works together for one sound, as in shop. Ch works together for one sound, as in chin. Point under the two letters together; blend the remaining sounds. Do not add an extra uh to consonants. This packet covers sh/ch, not every digraph. An adult reads directions, not the target word during the initial attempt.

Model 1 • Read shell. Point to the digraph.

sh is the digraph. Blend /sh/ /e/ /l/; ll represents the final /l/.

Model 2 • Complete __op for a place to buy things.

shop: use sh. Chop is a different word and does not match this clue.

Try the task first. Then compare the reasoning, not just the final word.

Read-and-check bank

sh: shop, ship, shed, shut, wish, fish, dish, rush. ch: chin, chip, chop, chat, rich, much. Say the word, touch the digraph, then use the word in a short spoken sentence. Adult: explain unfamiliar meanings after the decoding attempt.

Practice • Read, reason, respond

Read the lesson and supplied text or reference. Attempt each task before viewing the key. Explain when asked. Use separate paper for full drafts or longer answers; the PDF is not a fillable form.

1. Read ship. Name its first two letters and their sound.

2. Read chin. Name its first two letters and their sound.

3. Read fish. Is its digraph first or last?

4. Read rich. Is its digraph first or last?

Practice • Read, reason, respond

Read the lesson and supplied text or reference. Attempt each task before viewing the key. Explain when asked. Use separate paper for full drafts or longer answers; the PDF is not a fillable form.

5. Sort shop, chat, dish, chip by sh or ch.

6. Sort shut, much, wish, chop by sh or ch.

7. Complete __ip for a boat: sh or ch? Then read it.

8. Complete __in for the part below your mouth.

Practice • Read, reason, respond

Read the lesson and supplied text or reference. Attempt each task before viewing the key. Explain when asked. Use separate paper for full drafts or longer answers; the PDF is not a fillable form.

9. Complete fi__ for an animal in water.

10. Complete ri__ for having a lot of money.

11. Read: A fish is in a dish. Name both sh words.

12. Read: I can chat in the shop. Name one ch word and one sh word.

Practice • Read, reason, respond

Read the lesson and supplied text or reference. Attempt each task before viewing the key. Explain when asked. Use separate paper for full drafts or longer answers; the PDF is not a fillable form.

13. Change sh in ship to ch. Read both words.

14. Change ch in chop to sh. Read both words.

15. Write one sh word from the bank and read it.

16. Write a short sentence using chip. Read it.

Exit check • Apply the skill

Try without the answer key. Show evidence or reasoning when asked. Use separate paper for longer responses.

17. Read shed and point to the digraph.

18. Read much and point to the digraph.

19. Complete wi__ for something you hope for.

20. Read: The rich cat can shop. Find the ch and sh words.

Answers and response criteria

1. sh; one /sh/ sound. Then blend ship.
2. ch; one /ch/ sound. Then blend chin.
3. sh is last.
4. ch is last.
5. sh: shop, dish. ch: chat, chip.

Accept equivalent correct answers and well-supported interpretations. Sample writing is guidance, not a required script.

Answers and response criteria

6. sh: shut, wish. ch: much, chop.

7. ship, sh.

8. chin, ch.

9. fish, sh.

10. rich, ch.

Accept equivalent correct answers and well-supported interpretations. Sample writing is guidance, not a required script.

Answers and response criteria

11. fish and dish; read the sentence accurately.
12. chat and shop.
13. ship becomes chip; the vowel and final consonant stay the same.
14. chop becomes shop.
15. Any listed sh word, accurately written and read.

Accept equivalent correct answers and well-supported interpretations. Sample writing is guidance, not a required script.

Answers and response criteria

16. Example: I got a chip. Accept a meaningful sentence with chip decoded accurately.

17. sh at the beginning.

18. ch at the end.

19. wish, sh.

20. rich has ch; shop has sh. Read the full sentence.

Accept equivalent correct answers and well-supported interpretations. Sample writing is guidance, not a required script.

Access and next teaching steps

AIG

Ask for a counterexample, an alternative supported interpretation, or a newly written item with an explanation. Add depth rather than speed.

504

Follow the individual plan: breaks, enlarged print, extra time, reduced copying, or an alternative response method as documented. These are classroom options, not a statement of permitted test accommodations.

EC

Follow the IEP; show one task at a time, model the first decision, and permit dictated reasoning when appropriate. For decoding practice, distinguish an adult-read direction from an adult-read target word.

ESL

Preview task verbs and key vocabulary, allow home-language planning, and offer “My answer is ___ because ___.” Evaluate the targeted skill separately from unrelated language errors. For French, retain the target French sentence while explaining directions in a familiar language.

Use the exit evidence

For each exit task, record 2 = accurate and complete for the stated prompt; 1 = partly accurate or missing a requested explanation; 0 = not yet demonstrated. Total 0–8 is a local teaching note, not a standardized score. For oral tasks do not penalize spelling or handwriting. Revisit the exact type of error rather than assigning a diagnostic label.

Next lesson: model one missed decision, let the learner try a new example, and compare the explanation. Extend only after the learner can explain the targeted skill.

Alignment, sources, and license

The objective is original wording describing a focused part of the cited standard; this is not a full curriculum or official practice test.

Official state standard • accessed September 15, 2026

https://www.isbe.net/Documents/ELA_common_core_standards.pdf

Print US Letter at actual size. Text is selectable; enlarging or digital annotation is optional. This is not a tagged-accessibility-certified or fillable PDF. Keep teacher keys separate. No certified Lexile score is claimed.

Single-teacher license: the purchaser may make copies for their own students and use the file in a restricted class LMS. No resale, public posting, sharing of complete files, or redistribution. Original passages, questions, and teaching explanations; official standards and reference sources retain their owners' rights. No agency endorsement. Official store logo reused unchanged.

PRIVATE DRAFT • Not approved for sale or customer distribution. © 2026 Saint Pierre Learning Resources.

