Teacher guide

Course objective - Explain visual-attention norms and reflect on fingerspelling and classroom exchanges after qualified live or video instruction.

Suggested time: 35-45 minutes

Learning focus: Reflect on visual communication, fingerspelling habits, and classroom interaction after an ASL lesson. This is a text-based companion, not an illustrated sign dictionary or standalone signing course.

Teaching sequence: Review prior instruction and model the first prompt with its answer. Assign one four-prompt page at a time. Ask for a check, a reason, or a specific example. Use the reflection ticket to plan the next lesson; it is not a standardized mastery score.

Model prompt: What should you establish before signing?

Model answer: Visual attention/eye contact.

Support options

AIG: justify a second method or create a transfer example. 504: follow the learner's plan for time, breaks, format, and reduced copying. EC: model steps and accept aligned oral, drawn, or written responses. ESL: preview vocabulary, use bilingual references, and rehearse before writing.

Source and scope: Instructor-led prerequisite. ASL University reference:

Practice 1–4

Show work or explain your response. Use additional paper when needed. Teachers may cut apart the four bordered prompts.

1. What should you establish before signing?

2. Name one respectful way to gain attention.

3. Why is mouthing every English word not ASL grammar?

4. What is fingerspelling mainly used for?

Practice 5–8

Show work or explain your response. Use additional paper when needed. Teachers may cut apart the four bordered prompts.

5. How should beginners fingerspell a name?

6. What nonmanual signal commonly marks yes/no questions?

7. What marks many WH-questions?

8. Where should hands stay for clear signing?

Practice 9–12

Show work or explain your response. Use additional paper when needed. Teachers may cut apart the four bordered prompts.

9. Why avoid grabbing a Deaf signer for attention?

10. What is gloss?

11. Plan a greeting sequence.

12. How can a partner request repetition?

Practice 13–16

Show work or explain your response. Use additional paper when needed. Teachers may cut apart the four bordered prompts.

13. Why does eye gaze matter?

14. Describe an accessible seating arrangement.

15. Self-assess fingerspelling.

16. Write a practice plan.

Reflection exit ticket

Complete independently. Refer to your completed practice, but explain in your own words. This checks reflection and application, not a test score prediction.

1. State the focus of this resource in your own words.
2. Create one accurate example connected to the practice.
3. Explain how you checked that example.
4. Identify one possible error and show a correction.
5. Name one specific next practice step and explain why it will help.

Teacher answer guidance

1. Visual attention/eye contact.
2. Wave within sight, tap shoulder lightly, or use room light with permission.
3. ASL has its own grammar and nonmanual markers.
4. Names, places, and terms without a known sign.
5. Smoothly at readable pace, not letter-by-letter punching.
6. Raised eyebrows with appropriate body posture.
7. Furrowed/lowered eyebrows near the question.
8. Comfortable signing space visible to partner.
9. It is intrusive; use respectful visual/tactile norms.
10. A limited written notation for discussing signs, not ASL itself.
11. Attention, greeting, name exchange, closing.
12. Use an appropriate repeat/again request and puzzled facial expression.
13. It maintains attention and carries grammatical/social information.
14. Clear sightlines, adequate light, minimal visual obstruction.
15. Check hand position, rhythm, clarity, and eye gaze.
16. Short repeated practice with feedback from qualified sources.

Reflection criteria

Items 1–4: 2 points for an accurate, specific response; 1 for a partly correct response; 0 for a missing or unrelated response. Accept justified alternatives. Item 5 is an unscored planning reflection. Feedback should identify a next teaching move, not label a learner.
